CIVIL SERVICE REFORM

Will Be Discussed at the National Convention Being Held in New York This Week.

(Herald Special.)

New York, Dec. 9.—Leaders of national reputation in the movement for the betterment of the civil service were on hand today at the opening of the twenty-ninth annual meeting of the National Civil Service Reform Association, of which Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard University, is president. The convention will last two days and the program includes several meetings and a banquet tomorrow evening. Among the subjects slated for discussion are civil pensions, consular reform and the application of the merit system to the higher municipal offices.

At the first general session this afternoon the chairman, Richard H. Dana, submitted the report of the council. The report dealt with the progress of civil service reform in both federal and state administrations and pointed out faults in the present application of the civil service laws in the opinion of the council, and made suggestions for further activity in promoting the cause.

The speakers to be heard tomorrow include United States Civil Service Commissioner William C. Washburn, E. Dana Durand, Frank L. Polk and F. E. Doty. Hon. Joseph H. Choate will preside at the annual banquet tomorrow evening, and among the speakers will be Dr. Charles W. Eliot and Edward H. Shepard.
